SOUTHERN PLANT BOARD COMMITTEES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Southern Plant Board has four basic committees that function at each annual meeting. They are listed below with a brief description of their responsibilities. It is the responsibility of the Southern Plant Board President to appoint the Committees well in advance (45 days) of the annual meeting whereby committees can gather and assemble information need for the meeting.

Resolutions Committee – The Vice-President, Southern Plant Board, automatically chairs this committee. The committee annually consists of four individuals. The Chairman of the Resolutions Committee should sound out a call for resolutions 30 days in advance of the meeting to all SPB members. When possible, resolutions should be submitted in advance of the meeting or brought to the meeting in draft form in the format requested by the Resolutions Committee Chairman. The Vice-President is responsible for the typing, editing, and distribution of the resolutions passed at the annual meeting. Copies should be distributed to all SPB members, officers of the Regional Boards (Eastern, Central and Western, National Plant Board officers, national Association of State Departments of Agriculture (NASDA), and other specified on the resolution.

Nominating Committee – This committee usually consists of 3-4 members including the committee chairman. Individuals considered for nomination for the various offices and positions should be contacted to see if they are willing to serve. Individuals should also be active in the Southern Plant Board and able to attend the annual meetings, National Plant Board meeting, Nation Plant Board Council meetings, and any other special “called” meetings. Refer to the organization chart to determine the offices and positions involved.

Awards and Necrology Committee – This committee usually consists of 3-4 members including the committee chairman. This committee has the responsibility for selecting and nominating individuals for three different awards, namely the NASDA Honor Award, the ESA Distinguished Achievement Award in Horticultural Entomology, and the Carl Carlson Distinguished Achievement Award. These individuals can be state or federal and should be individuals that have contributed to regulatory and plant quarantine programs in their respective states, involved in regional and national plant board meetings and programs, and/or hold leadership positions in these and other organizations/associations involved in plant protection programs, etc.

Refer to Section V to review the rules governing these awards. Upon nomination of individuals for the NASDA and ESA awards, the committee must solicit the assistance of service from a colleague familiar with the nominee’s responsibilities, accomplishments, etc. to complete a write-up on him/her following the guidelines as soon as possible. The nominee for the ESA award must be a member of the Entomological Society of America (ESA).

Nominations for the Carl Carlson award could be solicited and submitted in advance of the meeting by SPB Directors, Head, etc. This award is relatively new and is for individuals/employees in regulatory and plant protection work that are not involved in administration type work (refer to rules in Section V).

The committee chairman has the responsibility for submitting the nomination write-ups to the chairman, Nation Plant Board by June 1. The committee chairman should also write and send a copy of the ESA nominee write-up to the branch President/Chairman of the Southeastern and Southwestern Entomological Society of America informing them that the enclosed individual was the Southern Plant Board’s nominee for the ESA award and request their support for this individual through their respective Regulatory Committee. The SPB chairman should receive a copy of the information and accompanying letters.

The committee chairman should also notify the SPB members (30 days in advance of the meeting) requesting the names and a short summary or work history on any individuals that have retired or died since the last meeting. The SPB secretary will prepare a SPB certificate, have it framed, and forward to each retiree via state regulatory official.

Auditing Committee – This committee is usually composed of 2 or more individuals including the committee chairman. The SPB Secretary-Treasurer does not serve on the committee but assists by providing the financial documents that are necessary for the audit. The committee has the responsibility for reviewing the financial records of the SPB to determine that invoices and receipts are available for disbursements and appropriate accounting procedures are being utilized in the maintenance of SPB funds. Recommendations can be made by the committee for improvements in record keeping procedures, and the Board should be notified of any concerns or discrepancies revealed during the auditing process.

HONORS AND AWARDS

NASDA HONOR AWARDS PROGRAM

NASDA's Honor Awards Program is designed to recognize outstanding employees of the state departments of agriculture. Each year at NASDA's annual meeting, three individuals are recognized by awards for service, administration, and communications. Nominations are accepted in the spring and then presented at the annual meeting in September. Recipients of each award are chosen by an independent panel of judges who are aware of the work of the state departments of agriculture.

The Service Award, known as the James A. Graham Award for Outstanding Service in honor of former Commissioner Jim Graham of North Carolina, is awarded to those who provide an exceptional quality of services to agricultural producers.

The nomination form can also be downloaded from the NASDA homepage at <https://www.nasda.org/about/nasda-honor-awards-program>.

USDA ADMINISTRATOR AWARD

APHIS Administrator Award: An Award presented by APHIS at the National Plant Board (NPB) Annual Meeting.

To be awarded to: An individual or a group of individuals, but not limited to the official State NPB Member. Anyone representing the official State NPB Member is eligible to be a recipient. The recipient must be employed by a state department of agriculture associated with the NPB.

Purpose of Award: To recognize significant contributions in the Plant Health arena by NPB members or their representatives in dealing with a current Plant Health issue or issues.

Criteria: Individual or individuals to be nominated by their peers within the NPB.

Each regional board will nominate an individual or a group of individuals that have made significant contributions to plant pest or export challenges or issues with positive results for plant health as recognized by the NPB and USDA-APHIS-PPQ. The individual or team being nominated can be from within or outside of the regional plant board making the nomination. Name(s) will be submitted with a one-page (or less) justification for individual or group of individuals to receive this award. Regional nominations will be submitted to the NPB Awards Committee Chairperson for initial review by May 1. The nominations will then be forwarded to the NPB Board of Directors for final determination of the recipient(s).

Recipient Name or Names: Are due June 1 of each year. The name(s), title(s), and affiliation(s), of the recipient(s) will be provided in writing to Paula Henstridge, Chief of Staff, USDA-APHIS-PPQ.

CARL CARLSON AWARD

Carl E. Carlson Distinguished Achievement Award in Regulatory Plant Protection

Rules Governing the Award

The purpose of this award is to recognize and honor individuals that have distinguished themselves in the field of regulatory plant protection through service and contributions made at the field level. Those who have consistently upheld the principles of plant protection and quarantine and the ideals of the National Plant Board (NPB) in serving those citizens and industries regulated. The award was established in 1994 in remembrance of Carl E. Carlson, State Entomologist, Iowa Department of Agriculture and Land Stewardship from 1979 to 1992. The award is sponsored by Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc. through the Central Plant Board. The award consists of an inscribed plaque and $250.00. The award is presented each year at the annual meeting of National Plant Board.

Employment (past or present) by an agency dealing with plant pest regulatory activities is a prerequisite for the candidate. The nomination shall include, a biographical sketch of the nominee, a photograph, a brief description of professional duties, job experience, other professional responsibilities or achievements, leadership and participation in related endeavors, awards and an evaluation and appraisal of the nominees' accomplishments, with particular emphasis on contributions and service made at the field level. Letter of support from co-workers and the private sector are encouraged.

The nominee must have demonstrated excellent performance in regulatory activities, regular and active participation in appropriate meetings and recognized by their peers as caring to the needs of all clientele being served. Previous recipients of this award are not eligible. The re-nomination of candidates for this award is welcome. Submit a formal letter of re-nomination each year before the submission deadlines. You need to send only new information as the NPB awards committee will retain all candidate documentation for two years.

The following may each submit one nomination: (1) each regional plant board chairman through his or her awards committee, (2) the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), Animal Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), Plant Protection and Quarantine (PPQ) through its Deputy Administrator.

Nominations are due no later than June 1 each year and shall be submitted to the NPB Awards Committee Chairperson.
